Dr. Lorentz, the Austrian "bloodless surgeon," is criticized by some of his medical brethren. If his system is found to be a proper one, he can stand it. Jenner was criticized, and it has not been so very long ago since the physicians who permitted their patients to have water when they were suffering from a fever were denounced by some of their brothers as killers of the sick.—Galveston News.

WIED.

Wied, Texas, May 22, 1903.

The picnic given at the Scharlottenburg church last Sunday, was well attended, a great many being present from Bantsville and Moulton.

The patrons of the Wied school and a meeting last Saturday to decide whether they would elect a new teacher or again re-elect Prof. J. A. Smothers. Prof. Smothers was again elected for the coming year, the vote being 16 for Mr. Smothers and only 4 against, which shows that Mr. S. is well liked and we hope that he will be elected many more years.

Prof. Geo. Stulken, who has been teaching school in Gonzales county, is here spending his vacation with the homefolks.

O. W. Miller of Breland was here last week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Schaeffer of Hallettsville, were here last week visiting relatives.

Adolph Niemann of Mount Olive passed through here last week.

REPORTER.

The war in the Philippines may be over, but 'tis passing strange that we read almost daily of some of our brave boys being killed by the natives of that section. The Philippines are truly proving an "elephant on our hands."—Weimar Mercury.

Mr. Morgan made enough out of a former bond deal to finance quite a campaign for the Princeton gentleman.—Bryan's Commonwealth.

MULTIPLYING DEATHS.

Penalty For Failure to Report Them.

County Clerk Buchanan has received a supply of blanks on which to report births and deaths. It is necessary that in case of a birth the attending physician, surgeon, accoucher or either parent should immediately send the report accurately filled out to the county clerk. The penalty for not making a report in 10 days is a fine of $5. In case of death the attending physician or coroner should report; penalty for failure to do so is $5 to $50.

The various doctors and justices are requested to call on the county clerk for the necessary blanks. The blanks provide spaces for the name of the child, race or color, sex, date and place of birth, whether legitimate or otherwise, nationality of both parents, names of father and mother, whether stillborn or alive, also date of report. In deaths the report shall show the full name of deceased, race, sex, age in years, months and days, nativity, alien or citizen, place of death, residence and cause of death completely stated.—Hallettsville New Era.
